

IEEE Journal of Electromagnetics, RF and Microwaves in Medicine and Biology (J-ERM)

Call for Papers for the IEEE IMBioC 2021 Special Issue

The IEEE International Microwave Biomedical Conference of 2021 (IEEE IMBioC 2021) has been cancelled due to the uncertainties of the travel restrictions associated with the Covid-19 pandemic. The IEEE Journal of Electromagnetics, RF and Microwaves in Medicine and Biology (J-ERM) is sponsored by IEEE MTT-S and EMBS. In order to give the researchers who intended to participate in the IMBioC 2021 an opportunity to showcase their work, the IMBioC 2021 Chairs would like to propose a Special Issue of the IEEE J-ERM dedicated to the IMBioC 2021 meeting.

Potential contributors to the IMBioC 2021 are invited to submit their recent research results to the noted IEEE J-ERM Special Issue. Each contribution will undergo the review process consistent with the review of the regular submissions to the journal. More information on the J-ERM can be found at <http://iee-jerm.org>.

The focus of the IEEE J-ERM is on the applications of electromagnetics, radio frequency signals, microwave and millimeter-waves in the field of medicine and biology. If uncertain whether the subject of your submission fits the theme of the special issue, please contact the guest editors at JermIMBioC21@gmail.com.

What follows is listed key information about the IEEE J-ERM Special Issue – IMBioC 2021:

- The paper submission will be done through the journal's web page <http://iee-jerm.org>, leading to ScholarOne ManuscriptCentral. In the menu for "Manuscript Type", please select "IMBioC 2021 Special Issue".
- The submission window will be open during the period 10 February – 10 June, 2021.
